

MORRIS LOVED GAY PARIS.

And He Started For There with His Employer's Money.

Captured at a Friend's House Clad in Fine Attire.

Solomon Morris, a good-looking young man, thirty-two years old, tall, dark, fine features, to which he was evidently unused, was held in $1,000 in the Tombs Police Court this morning on a charge of larceny.

The complainant was Samuel Stamm, who keeps a dry-goods store at 33 Canal street. He took Morris into his employ as clerk about two months ago on account of his ability to speak several languages, including German, French, Italian and English.

Stamm was delighted with his new clerk, who became very popular with the customers of the store.

Yesterday Morris was sent to the State house on Grand Street by a deposit of $10,000 of which was in cash and the rest in checks. Morris went to his room, but failed to come back.

Stamm complained at Police Headquarters, and Detectives Price and Taylor learned that Morris was in the habit of visiting a family by the name of Benoit on Elton street, East New York.

He first called on the Benoit family, and then he was finally admitted and found Morris, whom they recognized as the man who had been seen in the store.

He was wearing a new suit, and had a new hat. He was also wearing a new pair of shoes, and a new pair of socks.

NEWSDEALER WARD MISSING.

Left His Store Tuesday and Has Not Since Been Seen.

His Alleged Brother-in-Law Tries to Take Possession.

The police at Headquarters were requested this morning to ascertain the whereabouts of John H. Ward, a news paper and stationery dealer, of 58 Amsterdam avenue, who has mysteriously disappeared from his home.

Mr. Ward was a quiet, unassuming man and occupied a small apartment in the rear of his little store. Since the disappearance of Mr. Ward, his wife and two children have been apparently in comfortable circumstances, and has accounts with the Colonial Bank and Hecker Street Bank. As far as was known the money he was not drawn on these accounts during the past three days during the period of his disappearance.

He has one sister living in this city, and it was learned that his friends knew of it, but until yesterday they were not aware of his disappearance.

About 8 o'clock Tuesday night Mr. Ward asked Mr. Mueller to take charge of his store. He said he was going to call on his sister. He did not return that night, nor has he been seen since.

Yesterday morning Mr. Mueller saw a man, who said he was George Marshall, and claimed to be Mr. Ward's brother-in-law. He said he was going to see Mr. Ward at his home, and that he was going to take possession of the store.

Mr. Mueller called on the man, and he was going to see Mr. Ward at his home, and that he was going to take possession of the store.

WRANGLING OVER A GIRL.

Two Lawyers Claim to Be Retained by Miss Ryan.

She Is Accused of Stealing an Unknown Man's Money.

The novel scene of two lawyers pulling at a good-looking girl attracted the attention in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, this morning.

Each lawyer declared that he was the legal representative of the young woman and they appealed to Justice Walsh to decide the matter.

The young woman was Miss Josephine Ryan, of 41 Willoughby street, and the lawyers were Max Klein and Francis Corrado.

About two weeks ago Miss Ryan was visited in her apartment by a man, whose name is withheld, but who is thought to be a prominent Brooklyn politician. He had several thousand dollars with him, and after leaving Miss Ryan found that $400 was gone.

The next day she returned with another man, and the latter demanded the missing money of Miss Ryan. She denied having seen it. The man who is alleged to have lost the money told Miss Ryan that his companion was a detective, and unless she gave up the money he would get a warrant for her arrest.

Miss Ryan's landlady, Mrs. O'Connor, was at the time and told the story, and she at once called on the young woman and told her if she had the money to return it.

When it is alleged, finally yielded, and taking $200 from her stock-holding hand, she gave it to the man. He then called on Capt. Campbell, of the "Pier" precinct, and after telling the story gave him the money.

Capt. Campbell sent a detective around to the address of the man, and he found Miss Ryan under arrest. Having no evidence against her she was arraigned and held for $500.

As she was leaving the box lawyer Max Klein asked Miss Ryan to retain him, and he said he would take care of her. He said he would take care of her.

He made arrangements to defend Miss Ryan for $25. As a result each of the lawyers claimed Miss Ryan as his client, but to no one has claimed the $250, which she now states is her own.

It is alleged that the man who lost the money has retained Counselor Klein to recover it. The charge against Miss Ryan will come up again tomorrow.

FIRE IN A BREWERY.

Flame Does $10,000 Damage in Brooklyn.

Fire broke out at 12:15 o'clock this afternoon in the cellar of the Malcom Brewing Company on Flushing avenue, extending from Franklin avenue to Skillman street, Brooklyn.

An alarm was turned in and when the firemen arrived they found that the flames were eating their way up through the first and second floors.

Three alarms brought twelve engines to the scene, and the cellar was flooded with water. The fire was extinguished within a half hour, and the loss, it is said, will not exceed $10,000.

The building was but slightly damaged. That part of the cellar where the fire broke out, was used as a fermenting department.

Prominent work on the part of the firemen prevented, what might have been a serious conflagration.

TWO SMALL FIRES.

Blazes in a Bleeker Street Tenement and in a Restaurant.

At 2:30 o'clock this morning fire was discovered on the third floor of the tenement at 17 Bleeker street, occupied by Vincenzo Martino.

Some parties had been at work there, and the blaze started among some material they left behind them.

The fire had eaten its way between the floor and ceiling, and the firemen had to tear up nearly the whole floor to get at the flames. The damage is about $200.

At 2:45 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in Peter Hartmann's restaurant at 171 Broadway. A defective fuse started the blaze. No alarm was rung for the fire, as the people in the restaurant were asleep.

Mr. Hartmann has a hotel above his restaurant, and he was not excited among the guests.

THREW BURNING OIL UPON HER.

Fiendish Revenge of a Californian Upon His Divorced Wife.

Los Angeles, Cal., Dec. 7.—A Aguilar, a man who recently secured a divorce on grounds of cruelty, yesterday broke the neck of a quart bottle filled with kerosene and, after applying a match to the contents, seized her and poured the burning liquid over her head.

The woman ran into the street screaming for help, and the firemen quickly extinguished the flames. Mr. Aguilar had been horribly burned and is now in the hospital.

A warrant is out for Aguilar, but if he should fall into the hands of the indignation police he will be hurriedly dealt with.

STEAMSHIP BANGOR BURNING.

A Fine New Boat Meant to Run Between Boston and Bangor.

East Boston, Dec. 7.—The fine new ship Bangor, recently launched by the Atlantic Iron Works for the Boston and Bangor Steamship Company, to ply between Boston and Bangor, was discovered in flames at 1:30 this morning.

MRS. DAYTON'S GRANDSON?

Mystery Surrounds the Identity of the Diamond-Robber.

Her Husband Denies Knowing Him, but That Is All.

The police of the West Twentieth street station refuse to give any positive information as to the identity of "James Davis," who, Tuesday afternoon, at the point of a revolver, robbed Mrs. Isaac Dayton, of 24 West Twenty-third street, of $500 worth of diamonds and $50 in money.

While they refuse to make public their knowledge regarding the man, who was discharged because the Daytons refused to prosecute him, the police will not deny that they know his real name and his connection with Mrs. Dayton.

It was reported that young Dayton, to whom the man was said to be strikingly resembling, was to be noticed by everybody in the court-room, had admitted to the police that the prisoner was a grandson of his mother, but the police will not affirm nor deny this report.

The only positive statement the police would make to-day when an "Evening World" reporter called at the station-house, was that young Dayton recognized "Davis" as soon as he saw him, and told the police that he had known the prisoner for many years.

Is it true that the man arrested for the robbery of Tuesday afternoon is a grandson of your wife? He was asked by a reporter. Mrs. Dayton hesitated, made a motion of his lips as if about to reply, again hesitated, and then said:

"I will not deny the truthfulness of the report to that effect."

"No, I will not. I won't say anything about it until I have had a chance to talk to my lawyer."

"I did not," and Mr. Dayton put particular emphasis on the pronoun.

UNDER CIVIL-SERVICE RULES.

Opinion for the Board of Electrical Control.

The Board of Electrical Control is subject to the jurisdiction of the Municipal Civil-Service Board.

Corporation Counsel Clark decided so in an opinion rendered to-day and read at the meeting of the Board of Electrical Control.

The question of the Board's status arose over a letter from Lee Phillips, Secretary of the local Civil-Service Commission, requesting that he be furnished with a list of employees of the Board. The State Civil-Service Board had made a similar request.

Mayor Gilroy was of the opinion that the Board was not subject to orders from the State Board, but that the members of the Board were neither paid by the city nor State, but were defrayed by corporations.

Because the Legislature designated the members of the Board formerly it was called a State Board. Recently, however, the power of appointing the Commissioners was vested in the Mayor, which makes it a city board.

The Third Avenue Cable Railroad was given permission to lay wires for signaling in case of accidents on the road in the Empire Subway Company's ducts.

The cable company's request to stretch the wires in its own conduits.

ROD IN PICKLE FOR BIGLIN.

Will Be Asked to Make Explanations to-Morrow Evening.

The Fourteenth District Republicans have had in pickle for "Barney" Biglin, their leader. Biglin did not take enough interest in the last election to register. His constituents first learned about their leader's neglect and indifference from the newspapers. They are going to call him to account. He will be asked to explain at a meeting of the organization to be held at 147 East Thirty-fourth street, tomorrow evening.

Biglin, who lives at Belport, L. I., says the reason why he does not maintain a residence in the Fourteenth District, is that he cannot find a suitable place to live. You know that is not the reason why he does not maintain a residence in the Fourteenth District, is that he cannot find a suitable place to live.
